Nadja Jaisli is a partner at Bär & Karrer and her practice focuses on international commercial arbitration and litigation. She has extensive experience in representing clients before Swiss Courts and in international arbitrations. She has gained particular experience in the banking and finance, the pharmaceutical and the transportation industries and handled complex disputes arising from M&A transactions, joint ventures and shareholders' agreements, the sale of goods as well as license and supply agreements. In addition to her work as party counsel, Nadja Jaisli also sits as arbitrator.

After graduation from the Universities of Zurich and Geneva ("summa cum laude") in 2003, Nadja Jaisli worked as a law clerk at the District Court of Horgen (Zurich). She was admitted to the Zurich Bar in 2005. In 2007, Nadja Jaisli received her master of laws (LL.M.) from the New York University School of Law (NYU, Hauser Global Scholar) and was admitted to the New York Bar in the following year.

She is ranked as "Up and Coming" in the field of litigation in Chambers Global 2016, listed in Who's Who Legal's Future Leaders Arbitration 2017 ranking and as "Rising Star" in Commercial Arbitration by Euromoney Legal Media Group (Expertguides, LMG Rising Stars 2015 and 2016). According to Chambers Global 2016, she "impresses with her prowess as arbitration counsel". "She was convincing in her line of argument in a difficult case and was always close to the evidence, close to the facts".

Nadja Jaisli is a member of the Board of the Swiss Arbitration Association (ASA), a member of the Zurich and Swiss Bar Association, of the New York State Bar Association and of ICDR Young & International, YAAP and ArbitralWomen.
