Dispute Resolution and Corporate Governance

Dr. Anke Sessler is one of the most widely recognized litigators in Germany and has long-term experience with international and domestic arbitration and litigation proceedings. She represents industrial enterprises and financial service providers, in particular in connection with disputes in relation to supply contracts and joint ventures and/or sale purchase agreements, and with respect to law suits against former board members and claims for damages.

She joined Skadden as a partner in 2014. For six years, Dr. Sessler was chief counsel litigation at Siemens AG in Munich. Prior to joining Siemens, she was a partner at another top international law firm in Frankfurt for more than 10 years.

Dr. Sessler has served on various arbitration-related institutions such as the DIS Advisory Board, ICC Commission on Arbitration, ICC National Committee Germany, AAA and ASA Board. She served on the ICSID Panel of Conciliators for Germany until 2013. Recently, Dr. Sessler was appointed to serve on the governing board of ICCA. She is also a CEDR-accredited mediator.
