

Prof. Dr. Mirjam Eggen

Prof. Dr. iur. Mirjam Eggen is an associated professor for private law and financial market law at the University of Bern. Her field of expertise is contract law. She especially focuses on national and international sales law, contractual relationships between users and providers of digital services as well as relationships concerning contract law regarding new technologies such as blockchain or the internet of things.